

GREETING CARD PRINT GUIDE

PREMIUM MATTE 300GSM

PRINT ADVICE

In order to achieve vibrant and 'punchy' prints on Pinnacle Premium Matte 300gsm paper, it's important to engage the matte black ink. If the photo black ink is engaged, the image will be dull and lacking in vibrancy. The media/paper settings below will do this, whilst laying down the correct amount of ink.

QUALITY

We recommend using 'standard' rather than 'best' quality. We find that in general, 'best' quality does not improve the quality of the print. Instead, it can lay down too much ink, which thickens fine lines, wastes ink and adds to the cost.

Use these settings in your printer dialogue box when printing:

Media Type:	Matte Paper > Photo Quality Paper
Mode:	Custom > Photo enhanced if printer is managing colours Custom > Off > No colour matching if Photoshop is managing the colours (using an ICC profile)

BORDERLESS PRINTING

Most popular inkjet printers will only print borderless on A4 (folds to A5 card); any other size will have a border. The printer default border size varies but is usually 3mm to 5mm.

*We have introduced A6 borderless cards to overcome this problem for A6 cards.

PRINT ORIENTATION

All paper size settings above are based on your design being set up in landscape and the paper being fed into your printer on the short edge.
